PREFACE.

In publishing this book the compiler has endeavored to give only a few choice, thoroughly tested receipts in every department of cooking.

Proceeding upon the maxim that "quality is more desirable than quantity," she has eliminated many receipts that are good, but not as practical, or else very similar to others given, and has chosen only those she has found to be the best and prepared in the best way.

The compiler has selected, as nearly as possible, those receipts that will be helpful and practical to the housekeeper and cook who desires to prepare either a simple home luncheon or a more elaborate dish for the dinner party ; thus attempting to answer to a certain degree the question, "What shall I have for the next meal, and how shall I prepare it ?"

Dainty dishes suitable for the invalid and trays for the convalescent patient are included, prepared in the most nutritious and yet palatable way.

She has endeavored to give each receipt in the clearest and simplest manner, so that even an amateur at cooking can use the book with ease, thus suiting the needs of all, from the beginner to the more experienced housekeeper.

In order to give all the advantage of her experience you will find on the back pages of the book the addresses of a few firms whose goods she has thoroughly tested and found to be the best in every way, and by the using of which she has obtained the best results: particularly the Daisy Flour, the Kentucky Refining Company's Nonpareil Oil, Fleischmann's Compressed Yeast, "Favorite" Cooking Stove for Natural Gas, and the Claudine Flour Sifter.

COOKING

AND WHAT CAN BE DONE WITH IT.

We can not deny that the great question of to-day, forever spoken by the hearts of the majority of women, is, "What am I fitted for, what can I do, and how can I do it?"

Possibly many, in the time this paper is being read, will ask of themselves anxiously, "Now has come the time I must do something, and what?"

There are two considerations that confront us, and prevent us from choosing wisely and profitably:

First—We are always striving after something that will not affect our social standing in the eyes of our neighbors.

Second—When considering a branch of work we invariably scan the completed specimen of some brother artist, and are awed by the immensity, forgetting that we are not expected to present a rounded act at first, that patience and perseverance are the secret of all successes.

When debating a field of work, never look at your occupation through your neighbor's eye, for nine chances out of ten she doesn't know as much about it as you.

Do not expect your work to dignify and sustain you until you have labored for your work and dignified it. Stand out alone, and look it fairly in the face, to learn if you are suited to accept and uplift it, and enable it to help you. Be willing to accept the beginning without reference to the end, and in this is constituted the important subject of our talk on cooking and what can be done with it.

Now, to show how small a beginning in cooking grew to a prosperous employment, because earnestly and enthusiastically entered into, I am going to tell you of the venture I know most about—my own.

When in September, 1893, I found myself face to face with the fact that I must fall into ranks with the great army of working women, my thoughts turned at once to cooking. Knowing I could make fruit cakes, I began by taking orders for them among my friends, and made them in my mother's kitchen. In a few weeks work began to increase, and the family kitchen became too small a workshop for this occupation which had been placed in my hands. My fruit cakes had gone forth to usher in a larger thing than I expected. I found to my surprise that a goodly number demanded of me, "Get you a kitchen and cook for us."

I was dismayed—I hadn't a cent of capital. I could have our large yard to build my workshop on, so I picked up my courage and went to a carpenter, stating my case to him, telling him I would pay him for his work as soon as I earned the money, if he would build me a simple little kitchen with a pantry connected, putting up shelves for my "tools." He may have discerned energy and courage, or he may have tasted my fruit cakes at some time. Any way he built the kitchen, and just before Thanksgiving, in 1893, I started to work in my plain little shop with no conveniences or embellishments, these to be added as I felt able, and I was surprised to see how, little by little, the kitchen bloomed forth into pots and pans, all paid for by the occupation growing larger and larger.

I sent my circulars all over the city, stating that I would take orders from a cup of chocolate to a large reception.

The Principals of two of our largest schools asked me to supply lunches for the children. So steadily the work grew, until now I have my cook and man, and have added one convenience after another, so that the kitchen is furnished with all necessary appliances.

Now I supply my own linen and china for receptions or dinners, and furnish trays for the sick. Growing fond of my work, I have studied it as a science and an art, and last year taught classes in cooking at home and in other cities, which I continue this year.

Now, as the receipts, not only for fruit cakes but for all departments in cooking, have been liked, I shall attempt my cook book, and by Thanksgiving the last round of the ladder of cooking will be climbed—I shall be able to stand behind a cook book, it's compiler. All this from fruit cakes well done.

Now I do not mean to prove by this that any one can immediately start a kitchen without a cent of capital and make it a success. Neither do I mean to imply that when the kitchen is started, that is the end; but I do mean to show that the avenue of cooking, as an industry, is open to those earnestly looking for a means of livelihood, and who still have a womanly love for the homely art of cooking.

In the story of the kitchen I have also tried to show that though capital is not necessary, the constant bearing in mind of a high ideal is the motto, "Every thing attempted of the best, nothing attempted that can not be made of practical use, and nothing ever attempted which involves debts, the paying of which is an uncertainty," should be religiously adhered to.

Remember that nothing is ever gained by scrimping the means or materials of cooking in any way. Not a grand beginning and a gradual descent to the mediocre; but a more modest attempt with an honest standard which is never lowered, is the secret of success in cooking.

Cooking is an art, because it is capable of unlimited growth, because it embraces the study of form and color, and most of all because it compels the perfect union of all things in its domain. The cook must know just when to withhold the grain of pepper or the sprinkle of salt to obtain the flavor that dubs him an artist. Nor is this sufficient, he must understand the person for whom the meal is prepared and plan the one for the other, so that they will agree as one, and in this subtle combining does cooking become an art. And now we have, as it were, only the picture—the frame has yet to come. This nectar and ambrosia must be placed before our Lucullus in fit settings. We must know his characteristics—must there be cut glass and fine linen, or a Sèvres service on which to serve the precious viands—must we encircle it in flowers, or leave it in severity ungarlanded?

Cooking is a science, because in the preparing of foods we are brought in contact with the laws that govern the animal, vegetable, and mineral kingdoms. Chemistry is our constant companion. Nor can a cook stop with what is already finished. She must be an inventor. She must see in a cabbage or turnip such possibilities that will transform it from its original state to a dish fit for the gods.

You probably think I have placed cooking under a rather high standard in this "glorious age" when I say that cooking is a science, an art, and a philosophy. But stop a minute. Did you ever consider that food and the preparing of food are the means by which our great social engine is supplied with energy?

Did you ever consider that food retarded or advanced the work of our body and mind, and therefore retarded or advanced national progress to a degree by no means small?

The great sun gives its energy to the seed below ground, which, under his influence, become the vast expanses of wood, and by the aid of the same energy that raised it, the forest flourishes, falls, and decays, becoming great peat-bogs, and finally coal to burst into warmth and flame and energy again. Do we consider that power small which gave such strength for such a transformation?

Shall we despise the power that builds us up, enables us to have strength to labor?

We started with a little kitchen, we have ended in the banquet hall of peoples. Is it not true?

It is not the branch of work alone that lifts us to a higher sphere,
For man may choose the humblest path to find the great is near;
God gives us all our part to do, and with us lies the right
To leave our task unbeautified, or mighty in His sight.

In this short time I have tried to show the use of cooking, the dignity of cooking, and the place of cooking in the present day. I have said nothing of its noble past, for noble it certainly is. Among its devotees we find the greatest of the world—scientists, artists, philosophers, poets, and potentates, all have found it a friend. Dumas was also a cook, Balzac honored it, and some of our best loved memories of the English classics are found to be Charles Lamb's "Dissertation upon Roast Pig," Dickens' delicious concoctions in "Pickwick Papers," and Thackeray's inimitable description of a French chef. Nor have I stepped far enough back in the ages, to the time when the feast was honored as a religious ceremony, or to the grand old Greeks who revered that which nourished their bodies, and whose women, from the matron to the youngest maid, knew the art of cooking. Their feasts we all know were monuments of magnificence, the legends of which have come down to us of to-day. Yet we have found that like any truly great object, cooking may own a very simple beginning, and opens readily its prospects to the one earnestly seeking it.

We have found that cooking may be used as an honorable and practical means of livelihood for those who find that now it has become a necessity for them to enter the fields of labor. We find this is not its only use; but that it may also teach, and that from this revered and womanly occupation we learn, as well as in the more exalted fields of the "new woman" sphere.

We have found that cooking possesses the dignity of an art, a science, and of a philosophy, and for its place in this age, it is one of the still unseen powers that uplifts and enables our great peoples to progress.

GLOSSARY.

SAUTE.—Saute is to fry in as little fat as possible—frying is to immerse in hot fat.

MARINATE.—To make salads successfully, the meat, or celery, or nuts should be placed in a dish and covered with three parts oil and one part vinegar, and a little salt, which is to marinate for several hours. Then any of the dressing which is not absorbed should be drained off, the salad mixed as desired, and the regular dressing poured over it.

BROWN STOCK.—To make Brown Stock successfully, take a four-pound soup bone, remove some of the meat from the bone, and then place the bone in the soup kettle with three quarts of cold water and let it boil on the back of the stove. Take the soup vegetables with a little parsley and two cloves and the meat which you have reserved from the soup bone, chop all fine and saute until brown. Pour into the boiling kettle and let all boil together slowly five or six hours. Remove from the fire, strain through a fine sieve, let it cool, and skim off the grease. Put away in a cool place and use as desired.

WHITE STOCK.—Take the liquor in which chicken or veal has been boiled, remove the meat and season, boil for fifteen minutes with a stalk of celery, a slice of onion, two slices of carrot, and a bay leaf, and a little salt and pepper. Strain and use as White Stock.

DILUTED EGG.—Where egg and crumbs are to be used in frying, always dilute one egg with two tablespoonsful of water. This will prevent a hard crust from forming on any thing that is fried, and will make just a delicate brown.

CAKE.—To obtain the best results in making cake where milk and baking powder are to be used, stir into the milk the baking powder, and add to the cake the last thing, for in many cases where the baking powder is put into the flour some of it is lost, and the cake is not as light as it should be.

CAKE.—In plum puddings, fruit cakes, mince meat, etc., where spices and liquor are used, I find it more desirable to let the spices stand in the liquor for an hour or more before putting into the other ingredients.

WHIPPED CREAM.—Remember that a pint of cream whipped is not a pint of whipped cream. Be careful to notice always whether the receipt calls for whipped cream or cream whipped.

RICE.—It is a most satisfactory way to soak rice in cold water for an hour or more before using.

BREAD.*

2 cups of lukewarm water.

Mix thoroughly the lard, potatoes, sugar, and salt; add the eggs, then the milk, and then the yeast. Set to rise for two hours; make into a soft dough by adding about a quart of flour, and set to rise again. Make into rolls or loaf, butter the top, and set to rise again; bake in a quick oven.

Then add enough flour to knead; knead well—very thoroughly—and set to rise. When light, cut it down, shape into rolls, let rise again, and bake in a quick oven.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 pint of meal. | $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of milk. |
| 1 tablespoonful of lard. | 2 eggs. |
| 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder. | $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon of salt. |

Beat the eggs separately until very light. Then add to the yolks the meal, baking powder, and salt sifted together. Then the lard melted, then the milk, and when just ready to pour into the hot buttered rings add the whites of eggs beaten to a stiff, dry froth.

WAFFLES.

- | | |
|------------------------------------|---|
| 2 cups of flour. | 1 teaspoonful of baking powder (heaping). |

Mix the flour, baking powder, and salt, and sift; then add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, to which has been added the milk, and stir into the dry mixture. Add the melted butter, then the whites of the two eggs, beaten to a stiff froth. Then have the waffle irons very hot and well greased—pouring off any extra grease, leaving only enough to keep batter from sticking.

SOUPS.

CONSOMME.

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 lbs. lean beef (from the round). | 1 small chicken. |
| 2 ounces lean ham. | 1 small onion. |
| 2 sprigs parsley. | $\frac{1}{4}$ small carrot. |
| 2 bay leaves. | 2 stalks celery. |
| 6 cloves. | 2 eggs. |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ lemon (juice of same). | A little celery salt. |

Wipe and cut the beef into small pieces ; cut the chicken as for fricasseed chicken. Cover with cold water and stand on the back of the stove where it will slowly heat. Simmer gently for four hours. Fry out a slice of bacon, add the ham cut in dice, the onion and carrot sliced, saute to a delicate brown in two tablespoonsful of butter ; then add this to the stock with the remainder of the vegetables (cutting the celery in pieces) and a little thyme. Let the soup simmer for another hour, strain and stand away to cool. When cold, carefully remove the fat from the surface ; put in a kettle over the fire, add the whites and shells of two eggs beaten lightly, two tablespoonsful of cold water, a little celery salt, and the juice of half a lemon. Let it boil for five minutes, take from the fire and skim carefully, and strain through a cloth. When ready to serve, heat again and season with salt and pepper to taste. The soup should be perfectly clear, but amber in color.

Drain and mash the peas, add the water, reserving one-half cup of the peas, putting the remainder into the stew pan with the onion, bay leaf, parsley, mace, sugar, salt, and pepper; simmer gently for half an hour, mash thoroughly, and add the hot brown stock. Let it come to the boiling point and rub through a sieve. Thicken with one tablespoonful of butter and one heaping tablespoonful of flour. Cook ten minutes and add the whole peas.—Miss Farmer.

QUICK BOUILLON.

1 tablespoonful butter.	$\frac{1}{2}$ small onion, sliced.

| 1 pint cream. | 1 level tablespoon of butter. |
| 1 heaping teaspoonful flour. | |

Put a little more than a quart of white stock (either chicken or veal broth) on the fire with the asparagus and let them boil hard for fifteen minutes, then strain, pressing all the substance from the asparagus—reserve the tips of asparagus to serve in puree. Thicken the strained stock with the butter and flour, and just before serving add the cream, salt, and pepper.

Celery, peas, etc., can be used in the same way.

FISH.

LOBSTER TIMBALS.

2 slices of stale bread.	1 pound halibut or cod.
1 egg, 1 yelk.	4 tablespoonsful of rich
$\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoon onion chopped	cream.
fine.	3 tablespoonsful of butter.
2 tablespoonsful of flour.	1 tablespoon sherry wine.
$\frac{2}{3}$ cup of lobster.	Salt and pepper to taste.

Soak two slices of stale bread in water until soft, squeeze until entirely free from water, cook with a teaspoonful of butter, beating to the consistency of india rubber, then cool ; put one pound of halibut or cod through a meat chopper, and then pound in a mortar. Add gradually one-third cup of bread, one egg, one yelk, and four tablespoonsful of rich cream; beat well. Butter timbal molds and spread the bread mixture on sides and bottom ; fill with the following lobster filling:

Saute one-half tablespoonful of onion, chopped very fine, in three tablespoonsful of butter ; add two tablespoonsful of flour, one-half cup of rich cream, yolks of two eggs, salt and pepper to taste. When this thickens, add a tablespoonful of sherry wine and two thirds of a cup of chopped lobster; pour out to cool, fill the center of the timbals, cover with the fish, and cook in a hot oven in a pan of hot water ; serve with lobster sauce. This proportion makes six timbals.—Boston Cooking School.

FISH PUDDING.

1 pound boiled fish.	½ cup of cream.
1 ½ tablespoons of flour.	1 ½ teaspoons of salt.
¼ teaspoonful of pepper.	1 teaspoonful lemon juice.
A little onion juice.	2 eggs.

Mash the fish thoroughly, then put through a puree sieve and add seasonings. Put butter in the sauce pan, and when melted add the flour, then the cream, then the beaten eggs, stirring until well scalded, not thick. Then add the fish, beat well and fill a ring mold with the pudding, pressing it well against the sides ; set the whole in a pan of water and put in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. Remove onto a dish and fill in the center with parisienne potatoes, making a border of the same outside, and serve with rich cream sauce, in which parsley is chopped.—Century Cook Book.

FISH CROQUETTES.

1 pint boiled fish.	½ teaspoonful of onion
½ teaspoonful pepper.	juice.
1 cupful of cream.	1 tablespoonful of butter.
2 tablespoonsful of flour.	Yelks of two eggs and a
1 teaspoonful salt.	little chopped parsley.

Put the butter into a sauce pan ; when melted add the flour, and when thoroughly mixed add the cream, then the seasonings, then the beaten yelks of two eggs, and then the fish and the parsley. Spread on a dish to cool ; make out into croquettes ; to the beaten yelk of one egg add two tablespoonsful of water. Dip the croquettes first into the stale bread crumbs, then in egg, and then in crumbs. Fry in boiling fat. Serve with either Bechamel or Hollandaise sauce.

LOBSTER CUTLETS.

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 2 level tablespoonsful of butter. | 1 pint chopped lobster. |
| 1 teaspoonful of salt. | 2 heaping tablespoonsful of flour. |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of white stock. | Pepper to taste. |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of cream. | 1 beaten egg. |
| 1 teaspoonful finely chopped parsley. | Mushrooms and 1 chopped truffle. |

Melt butter, flour, cream, and stock. Work smooth; add the parsley, egg, lobster, mushrooms, and truffle. Cook a few minutes and pour out on a platter to get thoroughly cold (the colder the better); shape into cutlets, dip in bread crumbs, then in diluted egg, then in crumbs; put in frying basket and fry in hot lard.

FRIED OYSTERS.

Take large, select oysters, wash and drain and wipe. Dip them in the yellow of an egg, diluted with two tablespoonsful of water, then in bread or cracker crumbs; put in frying basket and fry in deep, hot lard.

OYSTERS EN COQUILLE.

When nearly hard frozen, add the candied fruits, one fourth of a pound of raisins, one fourth of a pound of pounded almonds, and a glass of sherry wine, and freeze hard. Remove the dasher and allow it to stand for several hours.—Century Cook Book.

Take one quart of plain, rich cream, season and flavor. When half frozen, add one quart of stiff whipped cream which has been sweetened and flavored. Freeze hard. Pack for an hour before using.

Take three pints of stiff whipped cream, color with Burnett's Green Vegetable Coloring, sweeten and flavor with extract of pistachio, put in a freezer and freeze very hard.

Then take a quart of very stiff whipped cream, sweeten and flavor with a little sherry wine, put in a freezer and freeze hard.

MISCELLANEOUS.

POTATOES EN SURPRISE.

Season one pint of hot mashed potatoes with one tablespoonful of butter, one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of celery salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, and a few grains of cayenne. Add six drops of onion juice, cool slightly, and add the yelk of one egg beaten slightly. Shape into balls. Make a hole in the center, fill with creamed chicken, oysters, or sweatbreads. Close up, dip in crumbs, diluted egg and crumbs, and place in a frying basket and fry in hot fat. Serve with cream or oyster sauce.

PARISIENNE POTATOES.

With a French vegetable cutter cut potato balls out of peeled raw potatoes ; drop in cold water for about half an hour ; put in salted boiling water and boil about fifteen minutes, or until tender. Drain off the water, and let them stand on the back of the range, covered over, until dry. Serve with white sauce and chopped parsley.

LITTLE PIGS IN BLANKETS.

Select large, plump oysters, or firm pieces of sweetbread which have been parboiled. Wrap them in thin slices of fat bacon, pinning with a wooden toothpick. Broil in a little butter.

PASTRY CRULLERS.

1 quart flour.

2 cups water.

2 eggs.

1 tablespoonful of butter.

Mix the flour and water, then the butter, then the beaten eggs and a little salt. Have the cruller iron heated thoroughly in boiling lard. Be very careful to drain all the lard from the iron, dip into some of the batter which you have put into a pint cup, being careful not to let the iron touch the bottom or sides of the cup; then dip in boiling lard and fry to a nice brown; remove from the iron and heat it again. Serve plain this way as a garnish, or sprinkle with cinnamon sugar as a cruller.

STUFFED TOMATOES.

Take firm, large tomatoes, not too ripe, cut out the blossom end and scoop out the inside as clean as you can without breaking the skins. Chop fine and add equal parts of ground chicken, chopped celery, okra, and a few bread crumbs. Season well with salt and pepper and a little onion juice. Fill the skins, put a piece of butter on top of each, and place in a buttered baking dish and bake in a good oven.

BAKED BANANAS.

Peel firm bananas and cut lengthwise; place in a baking dish. Slice a lemon very thin, put a layer of banana with three slices of lemon, and then a layer of banana and three slices of lemon, sprinkled well with sugar. Put in the oven to bake.

FRICASSEED OYSTERS WITH MUSHROOMS.

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| 30 oysters. | 1 tablespoonful of flour. |
| 1 tablespoonful of butter. | $\frac{1}{3}$ cup mushroom liquor. |
| 1 cup cream. | 1 teaspoonful of salt— |
| Yelks of 2 eggs. | little pepper. |
| $\frac{1}{2}$ cup mushrooms, sliced. | |

Cook butter and flour together in double boiler. Pour on the cream and mushroom liquor, then the seasoning, and stir in the beaten yelks of egg very slowly. Add the oysters and mushrooms after the sauce is thick. Serve in pattie shells or on toast.—Christine Terhune Herrick.

CHICKEN WITH ASPARAGUS TIPS.

- | | |
|--|------------------------------|
| 2 cups very tender chicken breast. | 1 tablespoonful of butter. |
| | $\frac{1}{2}$ pint cream. |
| 1 cup cooked asparagus tips (fresh or canned). | Yelks of 2 hard boiled eggs. |

Rub the yelks and butter to a paste and add the cream. Stir until thoroughly blended. Season with salt and pepper; then lay in the asparagus tips and chicken, and cook for a few minutes.

SALTED ALMONDS.

Blanch the almonds, wipe dry, place in a frying basket, then into Delmonico Cooking Oil, heated to the boiling point. When nicely browned, remove from the oil, sprinkle salt on them, and let them drain. Any other nut can be cooked in the same way.

CROQUETTES OF FRENCH PEAS.

2 tablespoonsful of butter.	2 tablespoonsful of flour.
1 pint of cream.	Yolk of one egg.
2 cans of peas.	Salt, pepper, and celery
1 teaspoonful onion juice.	salt.

Melt butter and flour together, then add the cream and seasonings, and the well beaten yolk of egg, and then the peas, which have been put through a puree strainer. Pour out onto a platter to cool, roll into croquettes, and fry as chicken croquettes.

EGG NOGG.

12 eggs.	12 tablespoonsful of sugar.
12 tablespoonsful best whisky.	12 tablespoonsful Jamaica rum.

Beat the yolks and sugar together until very light; then add the liquor slowly, next the whites, beaten to a stiff froth, and then one pint and a half of cream, whipped.

STUFFED SWEET POTATOES.

Select good, firm sweet potatoes, wash well and boil until tender. Remove from the fire, cut in half lengthwise, take out most of the potato, leaving the skin firm enough to stuff. Mash the potato well, season with butter, cream, and a little sugar, cinnamon, and sherry wine to taste. Fill the skins with the mixture, and put in the oven to brown a little.

OMELET.

Experience has taught us that an omelet is the most difficult to prepare of all egg dishes. In the first place an omelet pan should never be used for any thing else. Before using, it is well to rub it with dry salt, to be sure it is perfectly smooth ; and it is better to make several small omelets than to try to make one large one. Break from three to five eggs into a bowl, and beat twelve beats ; sprinkle with salt and pepper and a few pieces of butter. Have the omelet pan hot, and put in just enough butter to cover the surface without being too greasy. Pour in the egg, and when it begins to cook carefully cut it in several places so that the uncooked egg may cook evenly. Then take a broad knife and fold it over, placing the dish on which the omelet is to be served on top the omelet pan ; lift the pan carefully and turn out onto the dish. Garnish with parsley.

A FEW SIMPLE DISHES FOR THE SICK.

TOAST WATER.

Toast three slices of stale bread to a dark brown, but do not burn. Put into a pitcher, pour over them one quart boiling water. Cover closely and let stand on ice until cold. Strain. If desired, wine and sugar may be added.

RICE WATER.

Pick over and wash two tablespoonsful of rice. Put into a granite sauce pan with one quart boiling water. Simmer two hours, when rice should be softened and partially dissolved. Strain; add a salt-spoonful of salt. Serve warm or cold. Two table-spoonsful of sherry or port may be added if desired.

BARLEY WATER.

Wash two ounces (one wineglassful) of pearl barley with cold water. Boil five minutes in fresh water. Throw both waters away; pour on two quarts of boiling water and boil down to one quart. Flavor with thinly cut lemon rind. Add sugar to taste. Do not strain unless at the patient's request.

EGG WATER.

Stir the whites of two eggs into half a pint of ice water without beating the eggs. Add enough salt or sugar to make palatable.

FLAXSEED TEA.

Flaxseed, whole, 1 ounce White sugar, 1 ounce.
(1 heaping tablespoonful). Lemon juice, 4 tablepoons-
Licorice root, $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce ful.
(two small sticks).

Pour on these materials two pints of boiling water. Let stand in a hot place four hours and strain off the liquor.

PEPTONIZED MILK (COLD PROCESS).

In a clean quart bottle put one peptonizing powder (extract of pancreas 5 grains, bicarbonate of soda 15 grains—or the contents of one peptonizing tube—Fairchild), add one teacup of cold water and shake well. Add one pint of fresh cold milk and shake mixture again. Place on ice. Use when required without subjecting to heat.

PEPTONIZED MILK (WARM PROCESS).

Mix peptonizing powder with water and milk as described above; place bottle in water only so hot that the whole hand can be held in it a minute without discomfort. Keep the bottle there ten minutes. Then put on ice to check further digestion. Do not heat long enough to render the milk bitter.

PEPTONIZED MILK TOAST.

Over two slices of toast pour one gill of peptonized milk (cold process), let stand on the back of stove thirty minutes, serve warm or strain and serve fluid portion alone. Plain, light sponge cake may be similarly digested.

KOUMISS.

Take ordinary beer bottle with shifting cork, put in it one pint of milk, one sixth of a cake of Fleischmann's yeast, or one tablespoonful of fresh lager beer yeast (brewer's), one half of a tablespoonful of white sugar reduced to a syrup. Shake well and allow it to stand in the refrigerator two or three days, when it may be used. It will keep there indefinitely if laid on its side. Much waste can be saved by preparing the bottles with ordinary corks wired in position, and drawing off the koumiss with a champagne tap.

STERILIZED MILK.

Put the required amount of milk in clean bottles; if for infants, each bottle holding enough for one feeding. Plug the mouths lightly with rubber stoppers, immerse to the shoulders in a kettle of cold water. Boil twenty minutes, or better, steam thirty minutes in ordinary steamer. Push in the stoppers firmly, cool the bottles rapidly, and keep in a refrigerator. Warm each bottle just before using.

BEEF TEA WITH ACID.

One and one-half pounds of beef from the round, cut in small pieces; same quantity ice broken small. Let it stand in a deep vessel twelve hours; strain thoroughly and forcibly through a coarse towel. Boil quickly ten minutes in a porcelain vessel. Let cool. Add one-half teaspoonful of acid, or acid phosphate, to a pint. Serve hot or cold.

MUTTON BROTH.

Lean loin of mutton, one and one-half pounds, including bone. Three pints of water. Boil gently until tender, throwing in a little salt and onion, according to taste. Pour out broth into basin ; when cold, skim off the fat. Warm up when wanted.

CHICKEN BROTH.

Chop up a small chicken, or half of a large fowl. Boil it, bones and all, with a blade of mace, a sprig of parsley, a tablespoonful of rice, and a crust of bread in one quart of water, for an hour, skimming it from time to time. Strain through a colander.

CREAM SOUP.

Take one quart of good stock, chicken or mutton ; cut one onion into quarters, slice three potatoes very thin and put into the stock with a small piece of mace. Boil gently for an hour. Then strain out the onion and mace. The potatoes should by this time have dissolved in the stock. Add one pint of milk, a very little corn flower to make it about as thick as cream, and a little butter. This soup may be made with milk instead of stock, if a little cream is used with it.

EGG LEMONADE.

Beat one egg with one tablespoonful of sugar until very light ; stir in three tablespoonsful cold water and the juice of a small lemon. Fill the glass with pounded ice and drink through a straw.

WINE WHEY.

Put two pints of new milk in a sauce pan and stir over a clear fire until nearly boiling. Then add one gill (two wineglassfuls) of sherry and simmer a quarter of an hour, skimming off the curd as it rises. Add one tablespoonful more of sherry and skim again for a few minutes. Strain through coarse muslin. May use two tablespoonsful of lemon juice instead of wine if desired.

JUNKET.

Take one-half pint of fresh milk, heated lukewarm. Add one teaspoonful essence of pepsin and stir just enough to mix. Pour into custard cups and let it stand until firmly curded. Serve plain or with sugar and grated nutmeg. May add sherry.

MILK AND EGG.

Beat milk with salt to taste. Beat white of egg until stiff. Add egg to milk and stir.

RUM PUNCH.

White sugar two teaspoonsful, one egg beaten up. Add a large wineglassful warm milk, two to four teaspoonsful Jamaica rum, and a little nutmeg.

CHAMPAGNE WHEY.

Boil one-half pint milk. Strain through cheese cloth and add one wineglass of champagne.

PEPTONIZED OYSTERS.

Mince six large or twelve small oysters. Add to them, in their own liquor, five grains extract of pancreas with fifteen grains bicarbonate of soda, or one Fairchild peptonizing tube. The mixture is then brought to a blood heat and maintained, with occasional stirring, at that temperature thirty minutes, when one pint of milk is added and the temperature kept up ten to twenty minutes. Finally the mass is brought to a boiling point ; strain and serve. Gelatine may be added and the mixture served cold as a jelly. Cooked tomatoes, onions, celery, or other flavoring suited to individual tastes may be added at the beginning of artificial digestion.

BEEF TEA.

Free a pound of lean beef from fat, tendon, cartilage, bone, and vessels ; chop up fine, put into a pint of cold water for two hours. Simmer on the stove three hours, but do not boil. Make up for the water lost by adding cold water so that a pint of beef tea represents one pound of beef. Press the beef very carefully, and strain.

BEEF JUICE.

Cut a thin, juicy steak into pieces about one and one-half inches square. Sear separately one and one-half minutes, on each side, over a hot fire. Squeeze in a hot lemon squeezer, flavor with salt and pepper. May add to milk, or pour on toast.

MEAT CURE.

Procure slices of steak from the top of the round without fat. Cut meat into strips, removing all fat, gristle, etc., with a knife. Put meat through mincer at least twice. Then beat it well in a roomy sauce pan with cold water or skimmed beef tea, to the consistency of cream. The right proportion is one teaspoonful of liquid to eight of pulp. Add black pepper and salt to taste. Stir the mince briskly with a wooden spoon the whole time it is cooking, over a slow fire, or on the cool part of cupboard range, until hot through and through and the red color disappears. This requires one and one-half hours. When done it should be a soft, stiff, smooth puree, of the consistency of good paste. Serve hot. Add for the first few meals a softly poached white of an egg.

OATMEAL GRUEL.

One half a cup of coarse oatmeal, three cups boiling water, one teaspoonful of salt, and cream. Add oatmeal and salt to boiling water, and cook three hours in a double boiler. Force through a strainer, dilute with cream, reheat and strain a second time. Serve with salt or sugar.

CREAMED CHICKEN.

One tablespoonful of butter and one of flour, and add to that half a pint of cream, a little salt, pepper, and celery salt and the meat from half a chicken which has been put through the meat grinder.

CREAMED EGGS.

$\frac{1}{3}$ glassful of chicken stock.	4 eggs. $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of salt.
$\frac{1}{3}$ glassful of cream.	Pepper to taste.

Heat together the cream and the stock in a double boiler. Beat the eggs without separating, and stir into it slowly. Stir until thick, season and serve. This is the most nourishing preparation of eggs for an invalid.

CREAMED CALF BRAINS.

Parboil the brains. Blanch them and cut into small pieces. Put into a double boiler one tablespoonful of butter and a scant one of flour. Add half a pint of cream. Put in slowly the beaten yolk of one egg, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper, add the brains, cook three minutes, and serve on toast.

CREAMED OATMEAL.

Boil oatmeal as for breakfast, rub it through a fine sieve, add a little cream, and cook very slowly in a double boiler for half an hour longer. When perfectly smooth, add a very little salt and rich cream.

This the most delicate preparation of oatmeal that an invalid can take.

CREAMED SWEETBREADS.

Make sauce as for creamed chicken. Add par-boiled sweetbreads chopped very fine and a tablespoonful of sherry wine.

APPLE SOUP.

Two cups of raw apple, two cups of water, two teaspoonsful of corn starch, one and a half table-spoonsful of sugar, one saltspoonful of cinnamon, and a bit of salt. Stew the apple in the water until it is very soft. Then mix together in a smooth paste the corn starch, sugar, salt, and cinnamon with a little cold water. Pour this into the apple and boil five minutes. Strain it and keep hot until ready to serve. May serve with cream if desired.

BEEF MINCE.

Have a pound of beef from the round. Free it from all sinews and fat. Mince it very fine. To two tablespoonsful of butter in a sauce pan put in the meat and a teaspoonful of onion juice. Stir for three or four minutes, or until the meat is hot through. Add salt and pepper, and if desired a little lemon juice. Serve on hot buttered toast.

PANNED OYSTERS.

Put two tablespoonsful of butter in a saute pan. Lay twenty good sized oysters into it. When the edges curl and the oysters plump, dust them with pepper and salt, and serve at once on toast. Two tablespoonsful of sherry can be added before serving if desired.

RAW MEAT DIET.

Scrape pulp from a good steak, season to taste. Spread on slices of bread, then sear the bread slightly and serve as a sandwich.

FLAXSEED LEMONADE.

One tablespoonful of whole flaxseed, one pint of boiling water, lemon juice, and sugar. Pick over and wash the flaxseed, add water, and cook two hours, keeping just below the boiling point. Strain ; add lemon juice and sugar to taste.

ORANGE ADE.

Juice of 1 orange. 1 ½ tablespoonsful of syrup.
2 tablespoonsful of crushed ice.

Make a syrup by boiling eight minutes one cup of water and half a cup of sugar. Mix the orange juice and the syrup, and pour over the crushed ice.

SHERRY NOGG.

To the yelk of one egg thoroughly beaten add one tablespoonful of powdered sugar and two table-spoonsful of sherry wine and a pint of whipped cream.

KENTUCKY REFINING COMPANY,
LOUISVILLE, KY.

REFINERS OF COOKING, SALAD, AND ALL GRADES OF COTTONSEED OIL.

“DELMONICO” COOKING OIL. This brand of Oil needs no introduction: speaks for itself, and for culinary purposes can not be surpassed; in fact, it is recommended by physicians and cooks generally through the country; being so much purer and better than lard. For frying purposes it is especially good, and can not be equaled.

“NONPAREIL” SALAD OIL. This is a strictly Winter Pressed Oil, prepared especially for culinary and salad purposes. By a great many it is used in preference to Olive Oil, being so much cheaper and quite as good; and some also prefer it for cooking purposes.

“ECLIPSE” BUTTER OIL. This is a selected grade of purely vegetable Oil, and is used mostly by bakers.
